Special Issue of EJST Honoring the 60th Anniversary of Bahir Dar University

We invite interested scholars to submit articles for the EJST's Special Issue dedicated to the 60th Anniversary of the establishment of Bahir Dar University. Articles should be relevant to the scope of the journal, which is Science and Technology, and report on previously gathered scientific data or show future directions. Articles may also address the journal's future, what to do with it, and/or specific scientific issues that require special attention for the benefit of our community or humanity as a whole. Any major scientific idea, primarily problem solving, supported by data, is welcome to be submitted.

The articles will go through the usual peer-review process but at a much faster pace, and the issue will be based on the current volume and issue number. The advantages of articles published in special issues are that they are cited more frequently than regular issues..
